CANAL ITEMS. - The Cumberland News of yesterday has the following it ims of interest to canel men and coal shippers. Superintendent Hammond yesterday started the big pump at Patterson's Creek for the pur pose of endeavoring to raise the water in the upper leve s of the canal, so that boats carrying 100 tons can pass cut. He is by no means sauguine of accomplishing this result without the aid of rain.

The tow boat II has been completed at Weld & Sheridan's boat yard and will be lautched as soon as there is sufficient water in the basin. The same firm contemplate the construction of another steamer, to be called the Star No. S. which will have machinery different in some respec s from her prodecessors.

The Times says: The George's Creek Coal and Iron Company resumed work on Saturday last at 50 cents a ten, employing about 200 men, The Cossolidated Coal Company commenced work yesterday morning at 50 cents and are employing about 800 men, labor is included. A trip over the Cumberland and Pennstyvania railroad on Saturday and also over the Eckhart branch railroad on Thursday last revealed the tection business was beginning to be very brisk among the enal companies. The miners seemed in high spi i s over the advaces in their wages. which will enable them to earn $15 per week.

We learned that there would be about two thousand miners at work Yesterday, not include ing latorers, and that the only large companies not at work were the Maryland, the American and the Baltimore and Hampshire, which wen'd scon commerce stipping by rai, unless the caust was made navigable by a heavy rate. The miners consider five tons a day good work, and they are perfectly satisfied with the price now fixed-50 cents per top. The Times fur ther says: We yester lay received a note dated "Sharpsburg, October 18," from which we learn that a large number of boarmen held a meeting in that place and resolved 'ant to streich a line this fall for less than $1 per ton." as they had "tried it for five months for less than that and did not make wages."

Seven boats left Cumberland, on Monday, for Georgetown, but they were all lightly loads ed, the largest cargo being only 96 tons, and the seven boats only aggregating 592 tons,

Y. M. C. A .- The regular monthly meeting of this Association was held last night in the M. E. Church class room, President B. D. Stalings in the chair. The meeting was opened with prayer, and the General S cretary appointed to record the minutes. The proceedings of the September meeting were approved.

The room committee reported that they had engaged the present place of meeting for six months, for the third Tuesday night in each month on favorable terms. The same committee reported the necessity of paying in full the rent due on the old room, and it was ordered that the treasurer pay to Mr. G. E. French, out of any moneys he has or may receive, the amount due him in full, as soon as practicable. Reports from the vatious activities and from the General Secretary were received. It was resolved definitely to hold the 26th anuiversary meeting of the Association on Tuesday night, the 4th of November, at 7½ o'clock, in the 2d Presbyterian Church. A special committee for the occasion, Messrs. Witmer, Summers. Entwisle, Pearce, Giles Penick, Stansbury, Driscoland Caton were ap pointed by the President. A communication from the International Committee requesting the Association to join in the world's day and week of prayer for young men and the A.s cistions, to be held Novem ber 9 to 15, 1879, and the matter was referred to a special committee with power to act-Messre. Witmer, Patton and Eat wisle. After prayer the A-s ciation adjourned.

TEMPERANCE MEETINGS. - The temperance meeting last mah, was a very interesting opension. The officers of the Alexardria Referenced Club sat upon the platform. President J. W. Henders in presided. R.v. W. K. Boyle made a most happy effort. His address was considered one of his best. He pledged the club his hearty sympathy, and took the strong est ground against wice and dram drink ng. Mr. O'Neat I llowed in a ten minutes' speech. and Mr. Pearce delivered a stort address, after which a number of men came forward and signed the pledge and put on the red rilboo. A largely attended meeting of the members of the club was held after the audisces was dismissed. The constitution was adopted, and not a little er thusiasm manifested. A committee was appointed to secure rooms for the club. The next public meeting will be held on Tu s

CONSERVATIVE COMMITTEE, - The Conservative County Committee met, at the City Treasurer's office last night, and canvasted the vote, at the late Primary E ec ion.
The return were identical with those publish

The Secretary was instructed to arrange for the Paplic Meeting to be held in this city on the 30 iest, and to invite Mesers. F L. Smith of persons in the profession in the State. and G. A. Mushbach to join Gen Beals in addressing the voters on that occasion.

QUIT THE BUSINESS .- A well known goodry merce-nt who keeps store cear the M d and Depot, has for a long time conducted a large Tor business in connection with his estab mert. He has, however, been lately atrend ne the revival services at the Baptist Church and has become convinced that he should quit the quor business. Accordingly he yesterday gave away his remaining stock and assisted by some friends don o'ished his bar and removed the partition therefrom. The event caused considerable interest in the neighborhood, and has been much talked of, on the streets to-day.

DISTINGUISHED MEDICAL MEN -Dr. J. Marion Sins the distinguished surecon of New York; Dr. J. M. RAILROAD INSPECTION .- Col. Thomas II. Carter, State Railroad Inspector, and his assistant Major Baker P. Lee were in the city to day and made an inspection of the W. & O. R. R., on a special train. They returned to the octy this evening, accompanied by Superintendent Havenner.

INDICTED. - The grand jury in Washington vesterday tound indictments against R chard Burke, James R. Young, Frank J. Brooks and Robert T. Dyer, the four men arrested some time since for running an illicit distillery near the Treasury Department, in Washington. BAPTIST REVIVAL .- The revival at the Bapsons go forward for prayers, and there is no and Dr. Tour returned thanks in a law sign of a loss of interest. Last night one new appropriate remarks. member was baptised,

Medical Society of Virginia. The session of the Medical Society of Vir ginia was opened at Sarepta Hall last night. The platform was handsomely decorated with pyramids of flowers, rustic baskets. &c., and amongst the audience were many ladies.

At 8 10 o'clock the Association was called to order by Dr. L. S. Joyces, of Richmond, the President, Dr. Landon B. Edwards, of Richmood, acting as secretary.

The meeting was opened with a most uppropriate prayer by Rav. Dr Norton. Dr. Powell, chairman of the local committee, in welcoming the members, sail: Mr. President and Gentlemen: It is my pless ing duty, on behalf of my professional brothers, to welcome you to our city and our homes. Situated on the very confines of the state, and debarred from both social and professional in-tercourse with most of you, your wrival in our midst is greeted with a double welcome. We welcome you for the opportunity it affords of making the personal acquaint-nce of so many whom we have never met before, but whose names are as familiar in our mouths as household words, and whose reputation no one locali-ty contains. And we welcome you for more than this: we welcome you for the great beneat we expect to derive from the reports and ad dresses of those who bring before us their accumulated facts—for by facts alone is the science of medicine enriched, and only he who furnishes new facts contributes to its wealth. In former days our medical men, with childlike faith re-received as gospel truths the wildest theories that emana ed from the brains of so called medical philosophers. They erroneously regarded the man who was often correct as always infalli-ble, and considered the Image and superscription of their Count as a sufficient guarantee for the genuiceness of the metal that constituted the coin, and often accepted as consecrated truth the false divinings of mistaken oracles. But the cultivated physicien of to-day, weared by the steri ity of such pure speculativo philosophy as ignores the wonderful advance of empiric knowledge, stands upon the firm basis afforded by experimental science, and does not hesitate to reject any theory, however distinguished its architect or beautiful its structure, that is not built upon the solid foundation of established fact. And, gentlemen, there never was a time in the history of medicine when the means, pro-Corses and appliances for obtaining facts were as varied and numerous as now; and never before did experimental researches in pathology and physiology yield such fruitful results to well directed labors, and we confidently expect that the proceedings of this meetings will show that if the Medical Society of Virginia does not em-brace many great leaders in such investigations, it includes a host of those who follow close bo-

In conclusion, gentlemen, the physicians of Alexandria, in all sincerity, address to each of you fair Portia's greeting to Antonio:
"Sir, you are very welcome to our house; it must appear in other ways than words; therefore, I scant this breathing courtesy; and may a curse take root in every heart that is not glad to hind, and are striving to march abreast of those

Dr. Joynes thanked Dr. Powell for the kind-ly welsome he had offered and the courteous terms in which it was communicated. He was satisfied that the association had not gone amiss in selecting Alexandria as their meeting place.

The following physicians were present:

A. R. Mott, Leesburg, R. W. Nelson, Charlottesville; Wm. C. Dabney, dec. R. C. Powell, Alexandria; Wm. Gibson, do.; E. A. Stabler, do.; Wm. B. Kipstein, do.; M. M. Lowis, do.; Alban S. The President then introduced Dr. Occar Wiley, of Sslem Roanoke Co., wto had been selected to deliver the annual address. The address of Dr. Wiley bad for its theme

the life of the physician, its trials, its hard ships and its responsibilities. He depicted in clear and beautiful terms the daily life of the gos to which he was expessed, &c. Dr. Wiley also paid a handsome tribute to the memory of the deceased members of the society.

The address was listened to throughout with closs attention, and at its close received well livered his annual address. He urged the advanteges to be derived from fellowship in the society. He regretted that the member ship was so smal to proportion to the number

Tie address entered at long h into the laws of the State, which bear upon the medical profession, and discussed their shortonmines, the priots in which they ought to be a nended and how such amendment could be secured. The Dictor proceeded at length to show the members how they could advance the couse of med isine, even though they might be only country practitioners. He adduced a number of exam ples of country physicaes who had rendered most distinguished service to humanity and the profession. He deprecated factious differences between physiciacs, but said that there must naturally be difference of opinion in mediane as to all other matters. He noted, as examples, the differences of theologians, lawyers, &c. He urged the members to work together for the alleviation of human mistry and the good of their fellow men. The following additional members were elect ed: Drs. Jesse Ewell, Prices William; Wm. Gibson, Alexandrie; E. A. Stabler, do.; E. A.

Craighil, Lyochburg.
The society then, at 10:25 o'clook, adjourned until 10 o'clock this morning. The convention was opened with prayer this morning by Rev. Dr. Boyle, of the M. E. Church South,

Dr. McGuire moved that a committee of thirteen be appointed to nominate officers for the ensuing year. Adopted.

The Corresponding Secretary reported that nothing but routine business had been done. The Tressurer's report was deferred till tomorrow morning. Nothing but routine business was reported as having been done by the executive com Dr. S. K.
